HOTTORS AND PROPRIETORS

The News.

The dates from Liverpool are to the 22d not 24th. That interminable talk about peace, on the margin of fair Zurich's waters is likely to end in another broil. Louis Na-POLEON'S position in engaging to stand by the Pope promises to be embarrassing — his troops will have to be posted in the Duchies to prevent civil war-for GARIBALDI threatens to sweep away every vestige of papal rule from Italy if Romagna is invaded from Rome. We have details of the terms of the treaty—an amplification of Villa Franca.

The sailing of the Great Eastern to this country is postponed sine dis. The Atlantic Cable exhibits signs of electric life, BERKLEY, the English hunter, has returned to Weston, Mo., after enjoying buffalo hunts. He like many others had the buck-ague. He, delivered a lecture at St. Joseph a few days since.

The Sabbath.

To-day is the Sabbath of the Israelites. In our City the Hebrews are in a revival season as to the observance of this their Sabbaththe first day of the week. Their organ here, edited by Dr. Wiss, has been carnest for several weeks to secure a general observance of the day, especially on the part of those engaged in business. The wholesale interest has been the last to give way. Now, it is announced, that by Jewish houses declining to transact business on the Christian Saturday. seriously effects the wholesale business of this city for the day. The lergelite urges the observance of their Sabbath, as the corner-stone of practical Judaism. It urges that unless the Jewish Day of Rest is observed religiously, the Hebrews will have no Sabbath, as they spend Sunday in spieling-indulging in secular amusements.

The necessity of rest, one day in seven, has been ably argued in this revival period by the Reverend Rabbi. He is doing a good work in the city, and throughout the West, in his bold and determined efforts for reform.

Captain Cook.

The prisoner Cook, now before the Court in Charlestown, Va., a confederate of Brown, was once a dealer in Cincinnati. He opened the New York chesp lace store in this city, gay in 1845, near where GRORGE SELVE'S Exchange now is. He afterward kept the establishment on the Panny Pausa side of Fourthstreet, about where Smith & Nixon's Hall is. His two sisters were with him. One afterward married A. P. WILLARD, now Governor of Indiana; the other married CROLY, the needle merchant. We believe he was afterward in the employ of Mr. Dunns, of this city, and opened for him in St. Louis, a stock of fancy jewelry. From that city he went to California, and from his roving habit, he engaged with the Kansas Free State party. We prophesy rich developments to be made by Cook. He will be handed over to the Federal Courts, and witnesses will be summoned from numerous points, and politics will be slightly disturbed.

The State Elections,

On Tuesday, State elections take place in Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey and Wisconsin. County elections take place the same day in Illinois and Michigan. On Monday a Governor, Congressmen and members of the Legislature will be chosen in Louisians. The election in New York will be an exciting one. The Registry Act goes into operation: over 100,000 voters have already been registered. There are over 500 candidates; besides numerous ones for county offices.

In the Blacking Business.

Judge DougLas has answered Black and Black has blackened Douglas. This blacking business has seriously disconcerted one of our West Enders in Cincinnati-who, hearing that Douglas had left for Canada, on account of the Harper's Ferry affair, thought it was STEPHEN who had to leave for the Harper's Magazine affair, and our West Ender has concluded Douglas has no chance for a nomination for the Presidency.

Wholesale Conversion.

The residents of an entire district in Bul-garia, thirty thousand souls, have switched off from the Greek Church, and embraced the faith of the Roman Catholic. This, perhaps, is the greatest wholesale conversion known since the days of Pentecost.

BY LAST NIGHT'S MAIL. EXTENSIVE CONFLAGRATION IN ST. LOUIS.

Twenty-five Tenements in Ashesi—Boy Crushed to Death!!

Yesterday's St. Louis Republican says of the fire in that city, announced by this morning's telegraph:

At half-past ten o'clock, last night, fire broke out, accidentally as is supposed, in Kessler's brass foundery, which was also occupied as a carpenter and cabinet-maker's shop, aituated on the corner of an alley on Fifthstreet, above Green. The flames spread with wonderful rapidity southward, and soon that notorious row on Green-street, from Fifth to Sixth, which has long been a pest and shame and diagrace to the city, was in a wild state of and disgrace to the city, was in a wild state of combustion. There were about twenty-five tenements in the row, all frame but one, and alloccupied by men, women and children of the lowest station in life. Between two and three hundred persons were quartered in those buildings—build-ings which have stood many, many years, until at last they had become rickety and ret-ten, vile doggeries and viler dance-houses haunts which have been the scenes of untold robberies and crimes of every grade without

The property was owned by the Farrar state, and was sub-leased to Patrick Mc-Donough, whose income from the tenements was inconsiderable.

The efforts of the firemen were mainly directed to the protection of the buildings surrounding these tenements, as it would have been useless to have attempted to save the time-dried lumber which the devouring elements and have a surrounding elements. ment had begun to swallow up. The crowd, which was soon immense, did all that could have been required of them in saving the property of the inmates of the fated houses, and their endeavors were generally successful.

The fire was restricted to the block running from Fifth to Sixth-streets, on Green, but that was entirely destroyed. The loss not more than from $8,000 to $15,000.

from $8,000 to $15,000.

A very melancholly accident, which resulted fatally, happened soon after the configration broke out, at the corner of Green and Sixthstreets. The stammingine "John M. Wimer," in making a short turn, ran upon the curbitone, and upsetting, fell with its crushing weight upon a son, aged twelve or thirteen years, of Mr. S. S. Brainerd, and mangled his breast and body herribly. He was taken up dead.

Additional Foreign News.

A CARD.

Wheneas, We, the undersigned, citizens of Oineinnati, desire to tender to one of our fellow-citizens, on the eve of his departure from this region, some evidence of our regard, and to reassure him that though sometimes "lost to sight," he is ever "to memory dear;" therefore,

RESOLVED, That in TROMAS BUCHANAN READ we recognize one who has, in making his own fame, contributed toward making one for our Western Lands; who has cultivated assiduously the rich mines of European art, sparing no pains, particularly, to acquain himself with the great modes which have won the esteem of ages past; whose triumphs are registered both in the beautiful art of painting, and the niches of imperishable song; and who, on account of his contributions to the fine arts in the West, is especially entitled to the courtesies and kind consideration of citizens of Ohio.

RESOLVED, That we request Mr. Read to appoint a day upon which he will recite to our citizens such selections from his own volumes as will best elucidate his many-faced mirror of song, which other lands have accepted as a kaleidoscope of locality. It is said that "a prophet is not without honor, save in his own country." We trust the peet will not be wishout it in the Buckeye State.
